PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Winbourn, near Molong,
December 4, 1849.

SIR,—I now return thanks for an almost miraculous cure, effected by your medicines.

For some two years back I had been attacked by dropsy, to which I thought I must fall a victim, my limbs being so swollen as to render me utterly useless to myself, and a burden to others. Having purchased, by a friend's advice, a box of Holloway's Ointment from Mr. Murray, in Molong, I was induced to persevere, and I am now, by the goodness of God, and by the help of these inestimable medicines, restored to perfect health; and for the benefit of those who labour under a similar complaint, I have the greatest pleasure in giving it publicity.

I remain, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM JOHNSON.
To Mr. J. K. Heydon.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment may be obtained of the wholesale agent, Mr J. K. Heydon, at the Depôt, 78, King-street, Sydney, and by appointed sub-agents throughout the Australian colonies. 1248

JOHN FRODSHAM,

CHRONOMETER and Watch maker, begs to inform his friends and the public in general, that he has lately returned to this colony, and has commenced business at 73 King-street West, four doors from York-street, where he intends to direct his attention principally to the repair of the best description of watches, viz., chronometers, duplex, lever, and horizontal, being assisted by a first-rate London workman.

J. F. also begs to state, that he is in daily expectation of receiving a large quantity of first-rate goods, per the Tropic. 8467

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

TO ALL BUYERS OF IRON AND GENERAL HARDWARE, LARGE REDUCTION IN PRICES, AT

In making this intimation and soliciting the attention of the public thereto, it is only necessary further to say, that although the prices are so much reduced, yet the quality of the goods are very superior, and for which IREDALE'S STORES have borne the highest reputation of any house in the trade.

LIBERAL CREDIT GIVEN ON SECURITY.

MILD APERIENT, OR

ANTIBILIOUS PILLS,

FOR

PREPARED BY A. FOSS,
APOTHECARY AND CHEMIST,
313, Pitt-street North, Sydney.

THESE PILLS are strongly recommended as one of the best medicines for bilious complaints, viscid concretions, disorders of the stomach and bowels, giddiness, and sick headaches, so prevalent in this colony, occasioned by indigestion, through free living, intemperance, and the various affections incidental to the climate of New South Wales.

The peculiar efficacy of these pills is, in promoting a due secretion of bile,—a redundancy of which frequently produces heartburn, giddiness, nausea, headaches, loss of appetite, and rejection of food. They will be found highly beneficial in all dyspeptic affections, spasms in the stomach and bowels, by which the functions of the viscera become impeded.

These Pills require no confinement or alteration in diet; being free from all mercurial preparation, there is not the slightest fear of taking cold during their operation; and, assisted by moderate exercise, will promote a healthy action of the liver, and remove those obstructions which generally produce the above complaints. In fact, they stand unrivalled as a family medicine. Ladies may take them with perfect safety during the time of pregnancy.

The salutary effects produced in all cases for which they are recommended, render them worthy the notice of travellers in particular, and of persons who experience unpleasant sensations in the morning, after an immoderate indulgence in the luxuries of the table.

The many highly flattering and respectable testimonials as to the beneficial effects produced from the use of these Pills, which the proprietor has received during the last 20 years, would fill, if published, many columns of the Sydney Morning Herald. 4396

The barque Brewmar has hauled alongside the Flour Company's Wharf to complete her loading for San Francisco.

Danger Island.—Captain Johnson, master of the Will Watch, has handed us the following remarks, made by him on his passage from Honolulu to Sydney. They may prove of service to vessels coming from the Sandwich Islands to these colonies:—"At noon, Danger Island bearing by compass north by west half west, distance six miles. Latitude laid down in Norie's Epitome and on the Charts 10·15 south, and longitude 165·58 west. Proper latitude 11·35 south, and longitude by Frodsham and Son's chronometers 165·18·15 west. The island is about two miles and half in length, with sandy beach all round, and covered with trees. A reef runs out on the south point, the sea breaking high on it. The island cannot be seen of a clear day more than eighteen miles off."

In the year 1847-8, the American vessels lost at sea were 48 ships, 37 brigs, 75 schooners, 20 sloops, and 35 steamers, making a total of 215,627 tons.—Liverpool Mail.

The iron barque John Bright arrived here on Saturday, in ballast, from Liverpool, having been sent out for the purpose of procuring guano on the islands of Bass' Straits, but being unsuccessful came on to this port. On the 4th instant, spoke the brig Dart, off Babil Island, hence, for Port Phillip.

The Lady of the Lake, hence, arrived at Hobart Town on the 5th instant. The Emma was to sail from Hobart Town in a day or two after the Neptune. The Fanny Fisher arrived at Launceston prior to the sailing of the Nautilus.

The brig Wigeon left Hobart Town on the 26th ultimo, bound for San Francisco, with a general cargo and passengers. On the 27th, when off Cape Pillar, the wind blowing very hard from the south-west, the vessel running under close reefed main topsail, broached to the wind and was thrown on her beam ends; the mainmast was then cut away just in time, as the vessel was first settling down. After much exertion they succeeded in getting her before the wind. They had to throw upwards of 50 tons of cargo overboard; and the drift of the sea drowned 2 horses and 12 sheep, as well all the live stock they had on board.

The Lady Nugent, with immigrants, via Otago, arrived on the 21st ultimo at Port Nicholson. The Monarch arrived at Okara, with loss of rudder about the same date, bringing immigrants for the New Zealand Company's settlement.

MR. AND MRS. ROGERS' BENEFIT,

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, in again soliciting the patronage of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Sydney and its environs, beg most gratefully to acknowledge the liberal support which they have received on former occasions, and they do not doubt but that their present selection of entertainments will meet with the approval of all who favour them with their attendance on this occasion. Encouraged by the unanimous approbation expressed at the revival of The Stranger, at a previous Benefit, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have been induced to present another legitimate Play to the notice of their friends.

The Evening's Entertainments will commence with the justly celebrated Comedy, by A. Cherry, (compressed into three acts,) entitled THE SOLDIER'S DAUGHTER. Governor Heartall, Mr. Rogers; Frank Heartall, Mr. Hydes; Malfort, Mr. Arabin; Captain Woodley, Mr. J. Howson; Ferret, Mr. Spencer; Timothy Quaint, Mr. F. Howson; Simon, Mr. Collins; Mrs. Malfort, Mrs. Rogers; Widow Cheerly, Mrs. Guerin; Mrs. Fidget, Mrs. Gibbs. A Normandy Clog Dance, by Mrs. F. Willis. A favourite Song, by Madame Carandini. For the first time in this colony, an entirely new Double Irish Lilt, Mrs. Rogers and Miss E. Griffiths. After which, Mr. Rogers will appear as that eccentric Cosmopolitan, BILLY BARLOW, and give his valuable advice and judicial opinion to particular people, and about general matters, with a few passing remarks on Downing-street and Immigration. Grand Pas de Deux, Miss Griffiths and Signor Carandini. The whole to conclude with the very successful Extravaganza, entitled THE PERI AND THE PRINCE, or, CAMARALZAMAN AND BADOURA.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN NEWS.

On Saturday evening, the John Bright arrived, bringing a copy of the Liverpool Mail of the 12th of January. Although we have had later dates, it contains some scraps of intelligence which had not previously been received. We have only space this morning for the Message of the American President, delivered on the 24th of December, which will be read with interest; and an account of a serious riot at Stafford, on the occasion of a Protectionist meeting, called by the Lord Lieutenant of the County. The radical and free-trade mobs of the town are said to have assembled in great numbers to endeavour to stop the deliberations. The Mayor of Stafford refused to act in the matter.

The Annual Licensing Meetings, of which we have lately given full reports, have turned out considerably to the public satisfaction. In the first place we are happy to remark that the plan of opening the meetings to the public, which formed an important point of dispute for years, betwixt the friends of Order and the friends of Liberty, has proved to be equally favourable to both. It is now plain that the danger which was apprehended that improper characters might more easily obtain licenses under the new regulation was not well founded. On the contrary, it seems that some of those persons who were countenanced by the police for the facility which their houses afforded of reaching evil doers, are likely to suffer from a more critical investigation into the habits of their customers and the characters of receptacles which have we believe been more or less tolerated for good reason or bad in all great towns. Curious stories are told of some of these houses, and of the uses of whicl they have been found susceptible; but it seems now to be conceded that they are not defensible, if otherwise irregular, on the ground merely of their forming convenient positions for police espionage.

On the present occasion the attendances of the following justices are deserving of notice. The Right Worshipful the Mayor, the Honorable the Attorney-General, Aldermen Allen and Thurlow, Messrs. David Allan, O'Neil Brenan, Callaghan, Moriarty, H. H. Browne, and Day, were almost constantly present! To be sure it was their duty to do so: but not the less is it to be commended when it is considered how often the duties of magistrates have been neglected by persons who have coveted that honorable appellation.

A new feature disclosed by the recent licensing meetings is the extent of the class of Californian widows. It is much to be lamented that women who have been thus deserted by their husbands should be deprived of the means of livelihood which they relied upon,—besides experiencing the disappointment of the hopes which led to the foolish and cruel separation. The law does not admit the competency of married women to enter into the recognizances required from publicans. We regret that a substitute for the applicant's own recognizances has not been found admissible: for in some instances considerable hardship falls on well-deserving persons. We have observed, indeed, that the best conducted public-houses are either ostensibly or really under the management of women, either as femmes seules, or as the active partners of gossiping (and sometimes idle) husbands, who ought to betake themselves to some employment more befitting men of action.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

MINERALOGICAL EXAMINATION OF METALLIC ORES FROM LOCKYERSLEIGH,

(In continuation from the Herald of the 10th Instant.)

Having described two of the minerals present in the ores under examination, namely, green carbonate of copper and crysocolla, which is also an ore of copper, containing probably, (if I be correct in my recognition), from 49 to 50 per cent. of the oxide of copper—I now proceed to the investigation into the mineralogical characters of the grey ore, and in doing so I find a difficulty in the outset in describing the physical characters, in consequence partly of the intermingling of the other minerals, and partly because the individual characters are not very distinctly developed, however the pyrognostic characters are remarkable, and these are sufficient to determine the predominating metal present.

1. The shades of colour are chiefly light and dark lilac or purple greys.
2. The structure is fine granular, porous, and crystalline, like some varieties of grey granite, having silver mica, which it greatly resembles.
3. The lustre varies from dull through resinometallic to adamantine.
4. It is readily scratched with the knife, which affords a white streak, not metallic.
5. Specific gravity not ascertained, in consequence of want of apparent homogeneity or freedom from admixture.
6. In the open tube, under the action of the blow-pipe, there is no very perceptible disengagement of vapour, nor any reddening of moistened blue litmus paper inserted in the upper end of the tube, noticed.
7. Before the blow-pipe, on charcoal, and in the interior flame, it fuses immediately* and with violent ebullition into a globule of lead, which, while hot, appears to be covered with polished brass or copper. This ebullition is remarkable, and equals that of boiling water in point of violence: in short it seems to undergo almost a watery fusion, and during the process the charcoal becomes covered by a coating of a dark greenish yellow colour, edged with blue, like that produced by the sulphurets of lead.
8. It dissolves partially in cold dilute nitric acid with effervescence, and a drop of this solution communicates to the flame of a candle a greenish tinge—the two last characters are apparently owing to the presence of carbonate of copper.

The metal which characterises this mineral is certainly lead, and I am inclined to think from the exceeding fusibility, and the colour of the coating it deposits on charcoal, that it is combined with bismuth: for if it had been sulphur it would have been shown by its action under an acidified form on the moistened litmus paper, and by the odour of that mineral developed under the blow pipe—it probably contains silver; but the assayist must decide whether it be in sufficient quantities to pay for its extraction. I doubt it. Having tested these ores in mass for silver before, without detecting much, it appears to me unnecessary to examine the reduced lead for that metal.

By this examination I have not satisfied myself under what species this lead ore is to be ranked, but it is evidently rich in that metal.

The brown mineral noticed among the others seems to be nothing but the last described under a weathered aspect.

In describing the crysocolla, or the mineral I conceive to be so, I have omitted its structure and fracture—the former is compact, and the latter somewhat conchoidal. The first effect of the blow-pipe on it is to blacken it—its greenish blue colour burning off and colouring the flame—the assay then becomes dark reddish, and if free from admixture it seems to be infusible, the partial fusion I have noticed being owing apparently to the presence of some of the very fusible lead ore I have described. The tinge the assay communicates to a drop of nitric acid is blue rather than green.

It should be understood by those interested, that the foregoing remarks refer to three specimens sent me by my friend the Surveyor General. I have received other specimens from the same mine which may be more argentiferous, and which I propose to examine shortly.

(To be continued.) A. A.

* Even the flame of a candle will cause partial fusion.

ABSTRACT OF SALES BY AUCTION THIS DAY.

Messrs. Mort and Brown.—At their Rooms, at 11 o'clock, Allotment of Land and House at Balmain, House and Land in Liverpool-street East, on the Riley Estate, Two Cottages in Prince-street, opposite the Wesleyan Chapel.

Mr. Roberts.—On the Premises, Maloney's Buildings, Burton-street, opposite the Pelican Hotel, South Head Road, at 12 o'clock, Household Furniture, Apparel, Sign Board, Tools of trade, and Sundry Effects.

Mr. W. G. Moore.—At the Labour Bazaar, At 11 o'clock, Household Furniture, Spring Cart and Dray, Wheelbarrow; at 12 o'clock, Phaeton, Sandal Wood, Bottled Ale, Mess Beef, Glass Case, Publicans' Lamps, Gun, and Fancy Jobbing Printing Type.

Police Office.—The Mayor, with Mr. Alexander, Mr. Allan, and Mr. Day, were the sitting magistrates at this Court on Saturday last. Alderman Allen, Alderman Broughton, and Mr. Barker, have been summoned for to-day (Monday).

Burglary.—The premises of Mr. John Lord, residing at Chippendale were, between midnight of Wednesday and two o'clock on Thursday morning, burglariously entered at the back door, and robbed of seven £1 bank notes, and a small amount of silver, together with sundry articles of wearing apparel, valued at about £6.

Stealing Money.—On Friday last, a man named Cook, residing in Castlereagh-street, gave Mary Ann Brooks to constable M'Gilicuddy, charged with having, a fortnight since, stolen eleven £1 notes from him. It appeared that on the 26th ultimo, the prisoner and the prosecutor were drinking together at a public-house near the Hay-market, whence they proceeded to the house of a person named Holmes, in Sussex-street, where they arranged to sleep; prosecutor threw his neckerchief, containing the notes, across the top of the bedstead, and fell asleep; on awaking, he found that his fair companion had flown with the wings of his riches, and she eluded his search until Friday last, when he succeeded in coming up with her. On Saturday, the prisoner was brought before the Mayor, and committed to take her trial at the Quarter Sessions, for stealing. One of the witnesses brought forward to prove this case was a boy of about twelve years of age, named Holmes (son of the woman at whose house the prosecutor and the prisoner went to sleep.) On examination by the Mayor as to his competency to give evidence, the boy said he could not read nor write, never went to church or school, could not say his prayers, nor had he heard of a future state of reward or punishment. Such deplorable ignorance of course could not be tolerated in a witness, and he was told to sit down.

Court of Requests.—The New Sittings of this Court will commence at 10 o'clock this morning, with a list of twenty-one cases for adjudication. Those cases which are undefended will be taken previous to any cause in which pleas have been filed.

Sudotany.—Mr. Samuel Lyons requests the attention of the public to his sale this day, at the Mart, at eleven o'clock precisely, 9 cases Middlemore's Saddlery, &c.—Communicated.

Publicans' Licenses.—In the list published on Saturday, two names were inserted by mistake among the list of licenses granted, instead of being placed among those refused. These were the names of Messrs. Daniel Rogers and James Davidson, both of Pitt-street. The adjourned cases will come on at noon, to-day, and two magistrates will also sit, as we have previously intimated, for the purpose of taking the recognizances of those persons to whom licenses have been granted.

Attempted Robbery.—Between 12 and one o'clock of Friday last, Mr. Edwin Campbell, of George-street, grocer, had occasion to go to his bedroom, on the second floor, and, much to his astonishment, he there found a man examining his dressing-case, who on being asked what brought him there, coolly replied that he went there to rob the place. Mr. Campbell sent for a constable; Sergeant Egan came, who as he was leaving the room heard something fall, producing a sound somewhat familiar to a policeman's ear; on removing a box, there was found a jemmy, a chisel, a picklock, and a skeleton key. He gave his name as Bartholomew Moran. On Saturday, he was brought before the Mayor and Mr. Alexander, who sentenced him under the Vagrant Act to two years' imprisonment with hard labour.

The late Application for Convicts.—We had intended in this issue to have entered at some length into an examination of the proceedings of certain Moreton Bay settlers lately in London, with reference to the transportation question, the more especially as their conduct has been elsewhere discussed with some severity, by persons not thoroughly acquainted with the case as it stood. We are warned by space, however, to confine our remarks to the briefest possible compass, and there is the less difficulty in this, as the justification of the gentlemen who waited upon Lord Grey, at the Colonial Office, is easy. At the time when Mr. Hodgson, Mr. Hughes, and others, left this colony, opinion at Moreton Bay was unanimous in favour of the resumption of transportation—at least nothing contrary thereto had ever been publicly expressed, notwithstanding that the advocates of the measure gave the greatest publicity to their opinions. When, therefore, it was found that great difficulties had arisen in England with regard to the disposal of the convicts, there was nothing surprising in an application from seven large proprietors of stock for the introduction of two ships of convicts annually into Moreton Bay, because the applicants were fully aware that they thereby faithfully represented the opinions not only of their fellow-squatters, but so far as they could know, of every other person in the district. Those who have fought and gained a battle can well afford to do justice to the vanquished, and in this case candour must acquit the applicants of anything like unfair conduct. They left New South Wales firmly impressed with the desirableness of large supplies of prison labour—an opinion which, as before stated, was, up to a much later period, undisputed in the district to which they had belonged; therefore, although they were not invested formally at a public meeting with powers to act for all the inhabitants, they might well have believed that, in acting as they did, they but practically carried out the general wishes of the colonists at Moreton Bay. It is to be regretted that, at the date of those gentlemen's departure circumstances did not admit of that open consultation of all classes upon public questions, which we hope to see practised in future, and without which nothing contributing to the general welfare can be effected; but certainly, if blame can be anywhere attached for this circumstance, it must fall upon those whose want of public spirit caused their silence, and not upon individuals who naturally construed that silence into consent. Upon an examination of the names appended to the letter addressed to Earl Grey, it will be found that the subscribers were not persons who ought to be accused of presumption in putting themselves forward as spokesmen. They had all pecuniary interests at stake in New South Wales, and had had the benefit of considerable colonial experience.—Moreton Bay Courier.

Forgeries.—For many months past forged orders have been plentifully circulated in the country districts around Brisbane, and many have been the sufferers; but the art of imitation appears to be increasing latterly to a dangerous extent. Recently a Sydney merchant found it necessary to advertise in our columns his resolution to decline payment of all orders that he had not advice of, in consequence of forgeries having been passed upon him. It is easy to understand the great inconvenience that may arise from this arrangement, for, where nearly the whole circulating medium consists of written drafts, suspicion may stop the current of trade. We have seen some ingenious imitations of signatures, and are informed that forged orders to a very large amount have recently been returned from Sydney to persons who had remitted them. Nothing but the establishment of a Bank can effectually check frauds of this description, but drawers have a duty imposed upon them which they ought not to neglect. They should be very careful in writing their drafts, when ever the same is not impracticable, upon engraved or printed forms, and they should adopt every other means that their ingenuity can suggest to prevent spurious money from getting into circulation. Certainly anybody who neglects these precautions must, to a certain extent, be regarded as assisting in or careless in preventing a robbery. We hope it is not true that, in some instances, orders discovered to be forgeries have been re-issued by the holders. Any person doing this subjects himself to an indictment for felony.—Moreton Bay Courier.

City Property and Land, &c., at Balmain.—Public attention is solicited to Messrs. Mort and Brown's sales, at their Rooms, this day, of the properties above named, as advertised.

PARRAMATTA.

Water Works.—This town has been thrown into a complete state of astonishment and dismay, from the report of a letter which reached here from Mr. W. C. Wentworth, M.C., to the effect that, as one end of the proposed dam for forming the reservoir for a supply of water to the town must be placed against the barren rocks of Mr. Wentworth's land, the Committee must, before proceeding to work, purchase the entire grant of land, at the cost price, paying interest from the time it was purchased by Mr. Wentworth, or consent to pay rent for it. It will be remembered that on the evening of the 20th July last, a motion was made by Mr. Oakes, in the Legislative Council, that an address be presented to His Excellency the Governor, praying that His Excellency would be pleased to place on the estimates a sum not exceeding £1000, to be applied towards commencing the works required for supplying pure water to the inhabitants of Parramatta. At the time this motion was made, the whole of the evidence taken by the District Council of Parramatta on the subject, and we believe also that of the locality in which the water works were proposed to be erected, was clearly defined to honorable members in the papers laid upon the table of the House. It will also be remembered that Mr. W. C. Wentworth took a most prominent part in the discussion which arose on this subject, and made a lengthy and eloquent speech in support of the motion. In this learned gentleman's address, the following words appear:—"He could not but express his unqualified surprise that the honorable the Colonial Secretary should be so niggardly as to oppose an address like this." The honorable gentleman further stated that "the inhabitants of Parramatta had a claim to the sum; that they ought not to be compelled to drink the detestable and unwholesome water they were now obliged to swallow," &c., &c. In fact the whole of Mr Wentworth's speech was one of apparent sympathy and condolence for (as Mr. W. calls them) the impoverished people of Parramatta. And now, with all becoming respect for a gentleman of Mr Wentworth's learning and station in society, we would ask on the part of the inhabitants of this town and neighbourhood, how much credit is due to Mr. Wentworth for sincerity in the above address? Again, did Mr. Wentworth, or did he not, know, at the time of his address, that the spot for the intended waterworks at the North Rocks was adjoining his estate? Further, who will be so greatly benefitted by this projected dam as Mr. Wentworth himself, seeing that an extensive sheet of water will be thrown along Mr. Wentworth's south boundary, which in its present state remains barren and unfruitful from the want of water, in common with others in the same neighbourhood;—to say nothing of the advantage to be derived by Mr. Wentworth in the increased value of his town property? Language fails to express the indignation felt by many of the townspeople at the idea of any further delay to the waterworks. "Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Ascalon," that the gentleman to whose name has been attached the title of "patriot" by certain parties in the colony, shall be the individual to impede the prosperity of Parramatta.

The Government Domain.—It has been stated, that if his Excellency the Governor was for a moment aware of the lowness of the water in the dam, or rather the positive filth made use of by the inhabitants as water, owing to the long continued and distressing drought in this place, that

The late conflict between Austria and Hungary is next adverted to, much sympathy being expressed towards the Magyar race. The message then refers to the relations of the States with the different continental countries, and next refers to the relations of the country with the republic of Mexico, stating that with that country it is the policy of the United States to cultivate the most friendly relations. The boundary-line between the two republics is glanced at, and the President observes that it may be necessary to employ counsel for the purpose of protecting the interests of the United States.

The extension of the coast of the United States on the Pacific, in consequence of the rapidly increasing inhabitants of California, is next adverted to, and after touching upon the Nicaraguan question, and the proposal to construct a ship canal through the territory of that State to connect the Atlantic and Pacific, the President thus expresses himself on the financial position of the country :—

"The accounts and estimates which will be submitted to Congress in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, show that there probably will be a deficit, occasioned by the Mexican war and treaty, on the first day of July next, of five millions eight hundred and twenty-eight thousand one hundred and twenty-one dollars and sixty-six cents, and on the first day of July, 1851, of ten millions five hundred and forty-seven thousand and ninety-two dollars and seventy-three cents, making in the whole a probable deficit to be provided for of sixteen millions three hundred and seventy-five thousand two hundred and fourteen dollars and thirty-nine cents. The extraordinary expenses of the war with Mexico, and the purchase of California and New Mexico, exceed in amount this deficit, together with the loans heretofore made for those objects. I therefore recommend that authority be given to borrow whatever sum may be necessary to cover that deficit. I recommend the observance of strict economy in the appropriation and expenditure of public money.

"I recommend a revision of the existing tariff, and its adjustment on a basis which may augment the revenue. I do not doubt the right or duty of Congress to encourage domestic industry, which is the great source of national as well as individual wealth and prosperity. I look to the wisdom and patriotism of Congress for the adoption of a system which may place home labour, at last, on a sure and permanent footing, and, by due encouragement of manufactures, give a new and increased stimulus to agriculture, and promote the development of our vast resources and the extension of our commerce. Believing that to the attainment of these ends (as well as the necessary augmentation of the revenue and the prevention of frauds) a system of specific duties is best adapted, I strongly recommend to Congress the adoption of that system, fixing the duties at rates high enough to afford substantial and sufficient encouragement to our own industry, and at the same time, so adjusted as to insure stability."

"In reference to the agriculture of the country, the message contains the following remarks :—"No direct aid has been given by the general government to the improvement of agriculture, except by the expenditure of small sums for the collection and publication of agricultural statistics, and for some chemical analysis, which have been, thus far, paid for out of the patent fund. This aid is, in my opinion, wholly inadequate. To give to this leading branch of American industry the encouragement which it merits, I respectfully recommend the establishment of an agricultural bureau, to be connected with the department of the interior. To elevate the social condition of the agriculturist, to increase his prosperity, and to extend his means of usefulness to his country, by multiplying his sources of information, should be the study of every statesman, and a primary object with every legislator."

The admission of California into the union as a sovereign state is recommended, should the constitution recently agreed upon by the people of that territory be conformable to the requisition of the constitution of the United States. A similar recommendation is made with reference to New Mexico. The message dwells at considerable length on the present position of California and the surrounding country, and says :—

"In order that the situation and character of the principal mineral deposites in California may be ascertained, I recommend that a geological and mineralogical exploration be connected with the linear surveys, and that the mineral lands be divided into small lots suitable for mining, and be disposed of by sale or lease, so as to give our citizens an opportunity of procuring a permanent right of property in the soil. This would seem to be as important to the success of mining as of agricultural pursuits.

"The great mineral wealth of California, and the advantages which its ports and harbours, and those of Oregon, afford to commerce, especially with the islands of the Pacific and Indian oceans, and the populous regions of Eastern Asia, make it certain that there will arise, in a few years, large and prosperous communications on our western coast. It therefore becomes important that a line of communication, the best and most expeditious which the nature of the country will admit, should be opened within the territory of the United States, from the navigable waters of the Atlantic, or the Gulf of Mexico, to the Pacific. Opinion, as elicited and expressed by two large respectable conventions, lately assembled at St. Louis and Memphis, points to a railroad as that which, if practicable, will best meet the wishes and wants of the country. But while this, if in successful operation, would be a work of great national importance, and of a value to the country which it would be difficult to estimate, it ought also to be regarded as an undertaking of vast magnitude and expense, and one which must, if it be indeed practicable, encounter many difficulties in its construction and use. Therefore, to avoid failure and disappointment—to enable congress to judge whether, in the condition of the country through which it must pass, the work be feasible, and if it be found so, whether it should be undertaken as a national improvement or left to individual enterprise ; and in the latter alternative, what aid, if any, ought to be extended to it by the Government, I recommend as a preliminary measure a careful reconnoissance of the several proposed routes by a scientific corps, and a report as to the practicability of making such a road, with an estimate of the cost of its construction and support."

Some matters of detail relating to the army and navy are slightly glanced at, the President observing that the naval force at present in commission is as large as is admissible, with the number of men authorised by Congress to be employed.

The message next speaks favourably of the result of the reduction of postage in 1845, and recommends a still further reduction. In continuation on this subject it says :—

"Since the commencement of the last session of congress, a postal treaty with Great Britain has been received and ratified, and such regulations have been formed by the Post Office departments of the two countries, in pursuance of that treaty, as to carry its provisions into full operation. The attempt to extend this same arrangement through England to France has not been equally successful ; but the purpose has not been abandoned."

After some further allusions to purely internal matters, the message thus concludes :—

"Attachment to the union of the States should be habitually fostered in every American heart. For more than half a century, during which kingdoms and empires have fallen, this Union has stood unshaken. The patriots who formed it have long since descended to the grave : yet still it remains the proudest monument to their memory, and the object of affection and admiration with every one worthy to bear the American name. In my judgment, its dissolution would be the greatest of calamities, and to avert that should be the study of every American. Upon its preservation must depend our own happiness and that of countless generations to come. Whatever dangers may threaten it, I shall stand by it and maintain it in its integrity, to the full extent of the obligations imposed, and the power conferred upon me by the constitution."

ALARMING RIOT AT STAFFORD.

A Protectionist meeting having been called by the Lord Lieutenant of the County at Stafford, on Thursday, January 10th, there was a strong muster of farmers, and the radical mobs of the town attended in great force to endeavour to stop their deliberations. As Lord St. Vincent was about to address the meeting, the free-traders set up a most discordant noise, consisting of hisses, groans, and yells, and one of "We won't hear you, sit down—give us cheap bread and lower your rents." Several disturbances took place in the body of the hall, and amidst the cries of "police" and "murder," a general fight took place. Both parties appeared to be pretty well armed for the fray, and a set-to à la Donnybrook commenced ; but, after about fifteen minutes' good fighting, the police were let into the hall from a side door. A similar scene was enacted during Lord Newport's speech.

Lord Talbot came forward. He had no sooner taken his place in front of the rails, in the gallery, than some miscreant in the body of the hall threw a large stone at his lordship's head, which, however, missed his lordship, and fell on the forehead of Mr. Fowler, a reporter, who was standing by his lordship's side, inflicting a large contused wound. Lord Newport had the gentleman conveyed to the judges' room, where his head was dressed.

For nearly half an hour the chairman was endeavouring to address the meeting. During the whole of the period the rioting was at its height in the body of the hall, the policemen who were present being totally insufficient effectually to quell the disturbance. A large number of the rioters were, however, ejected by the farmers, and the chairman ordered the doors to be closed. This was no sooner done than the mob outside commenced pulling up the stones of the court-yard in front of the Shire hall, which they hurled through the windows with such violence as to break whole frames out at one stroke. The mob inside, in the mean time, tore up several benches and forms, with which they armed themselves. After some sharp fighting, in which some scores of heads were broken,

Lord Talbot again addressed the meeting, but it would be totally impossible to give anything like an outline of his lordship's speech, the riot and confusion entirely preventing the reporters from hearing. When his lordship resumed his seat, a large paving-stone was hurled through the window at him ; but, as in the previous case, his lordship escaped unhurt.

Mr. Turner was commencing to address the meeting, when the mob from without opened another battery against the windows, and the stones came flying into the hall in every direction.

Lord Talbot sent a messenger to the Mayor to say that, he, as chairman of the meeting, requested that his worship would prevent any disturbance taking place in the town.

The appearance of the place at this period became most alarming ; battles were taking place in all parts of the body of the hall, and the stones were pouring in through the windows as fast as a heavy shower of rain, much to the terror of those in the galleries.

Mr. Adderley, addressing the mob, who had again forced open the front doors, which they were now trying to wrench from off their hinges, said,—"It is a disgrace to this meeting that a body of Englishmen should behave in the way you have done. It is a disgrace to the person who has set this mob on to-day to behave in the manner they have. (Cheers.) You wish for an extension of the suffrage, and you have been told by your opponents that you are not fit to receive it. Your conduct here to-day has convinced me that you are not fit to be entrusted with the suffrage. You have brought a lasting disgrace upon yourselves by your dastardly conduct."

At this stage of the proceedings the superintendent of the police informed his Lordship that it was quite impossible for him longer to hold out against the mob, as his men were knocked down in all directions.

The messenger whom Lord Talbot had sent to the Mayor returned, and stated that his worship refused to act at all in the matter, as he considered it to be the duty of the county magistrates.

The mob, finding that they were now quite unchecked in their violence, commenced battering in the doors and windows in the most determined manner, stones weighing from 40 lb. to 50 lb. being thrown in amongst the meeting.

Lord Talbot, with some difficulty stood forward, and said, the Mayor of Stafford having refused to assist in putting down the riot, which is now existing outside, I cannot, as a county magistrate, allow the property of the county to be demolished in this way, and, therefore, I declare the meeting dissolved.

Upon leaving the Shire hall, Lord Talbot and his friends proceeded to the Swan Tavern, where he was followed by a mob of nearly 1000 persons. Whilst his lordship was in the act of crossing the road some miscreant struck his lordship in the breast with a brick. This was the signal for further destruction, for the mob immediately commenced smashing the windows of the hotel where his lordship and his friends were staying. His lordship, on receiving the blow on his breast, coolly told the mob that they were acting very unlike Englishmen. From the hotel the mob made their way to the railway station, where they received the farmers as they came down to go by the several trains, with showers of bricks and stones. Upwards of 100 persons are more or less wounded, some with broken heads, some with black eyes, &c. One gentleman, who was going down to the station in his gig, was so severely pelted, that the horse took fright, and the driver was thrown out.

Importance of Cookery.—It is a curious fact, that during the war in Spain, some forty years since, when the French and English armies were alike suffering from the scantiness of provisions, the French soldiers kept up their strength much better than the English, solely because they put such food as they could get to much better account. The English soldier would take the lump of meat, and broil it on the coals till a good part of it was burned almost to a cinder, though even then part of the remainder was probably raw. The French soldiers, on the contrary, would club two or three together, and stew their bits of meat with bread, and such herbs and vegetables as they could collect, into a savoury and wholesome dish. So great was the difference between these two ways, in their effect on the strength and health of the soldiers, that it was remarked that a French army would live in a country in which an English army would starve.—Family Economist.

Beauty of the Skin.—A form of the most perfect and exquisite proportions, however suggestive it may be of grace, vigour, and strength, wanting the roseate tint of life and health, fails fully to satisfy us. In the varying hues of complexion we find a charm superior to anything that mere outline and contour can afford ; and though we may be excited to admiration, nay, even to awe and reverence, by the contemplation of the glorious productions of a Flaxman, a Canova, or a Bacon, it is not because the lifeless marble possesses a beauty at all comparable to the living loveliness it represents, but rather because the marvellous skill of the sculptor lays fast hold of the imagination of the spectator, and the excited faculty spontaneously realises what is wanting in the work of art, and beholds the warm blood mantling in the veins, sees the bosom heave and swell, and supplies a soul of corresponding purity to the matchless perfection of form. It was doubtless, from a sense of the surpassing beauty of the female skin that the ancient sculptors coloured their statues ; and if this were done with an approximation to perfect truth of tint, and managed with delicate skill, it must have added not a little to their transcendent beauty and merit. Poets of every age and nation have celebrated the charms of complexion ; and all the countless beauties of the floral kingdom—all that is fair and lovely on earth, and all that is fairer still in the evanescent dyes of a summer heaven, have been laid under contribution to furnish similes and parallels to shadow forth its loveliness. How truthfully is this universal feeling embodied by our own Shakspere, in the soliloquy of Othello, when on the point of destroying the life of his cherished Desdemona, he says :

Yet I'll not shed her blood,
Nor scar that whiter skin of hers than snow,
And pure as monumental alabaster,
Alas ! for the transitory existence of a beauty so full of enchanting emotion ! It is only during the brief season of youth that, do what we may, it can be preserved in its perfection. Every step in dissipation undermines its charms and sullies its bloom. As years creep on, its softness, roundness, and texture degenerate, and its freshness disappears. As old age advances, it becomes worn and sallow, wrinkled and furrowed, through the gradual loss of the adipous deposits beneath it, and the surface, no longer the seat of vigorous action, becomes covered with large scaly patches, and feels harsh, dry, and inelastic—and thousands, then, for the first time, become fully conscious to how great an extent the external adjuncts of form and complexion delight the eye and captivate the affections.—Innis on the Skin.

Eating "Humble Pie."—A correspondent of that most useful publication, Notes and Queries, gives the following as the origin of this expressive phrase :—"'Humble pie' was made out of the 'umbles' or entrails of the deer, a dish of the second table, inferior of course to the venison pasty which smoked upon the dais, and therefore not inexpressive of that humiliation which the term 'eating humble pie' now painfully describes. The 'umbles' of the deer are the perquisites of the gamekeeper."

TWENTY-FIVE SUPERIOR BUILDING ALLOTMENTS,

IN DOWLING-STREET,

WOOLLOOMOOLOO,

Adjoining the property of T. W. Smart, Esq.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY MR. SAMUEL LYONS,
At his Mart,
ON MONDAY, MAY 20,
At 11 o'clock precisely,
BEING PART OF THE ESTATE OF EDWARD HALLEN, ESQ.

THE above Allotments are well situated in DOWLING-STREET,
which is one of the principal thoroughfares at Woolloomooloo, leading from William-street to the New Wharf, at Woolloomooloo Bay, which is the only public wharf between the Circular Wharf and Mrs. Darling's Point. The street has been levelled at a considerable expense, and the allotments are most suitable for the erection of which will always command tenants at a remunerating rental. The supply of houses in this healthy locality, does not at present keep pace with the demand for them; and there is not the least doubt but that the little vacant ground remaining will all soon be occupied, as buildings are steadily increasing in this quarter of the City.
RESPECTABLE DWELLING HOUSES,

Lot 1 adjoins the allotment of Mr. Ashe, and has 24 feet 6 inches frontage to Dowling-street.

Lots 2 to 10, inclusive, have each 24 feet frontage to ditto. Lot 10 has the advantage of being a corner allotment, having the whole depth to Woolloomooloo-street.

Lots 11, 12, and 13 have each 21 feet 6 inches frontage to Dowling-street. Lot 11 is a corner allotment, having the depth to Woolloomooloo-street.

The above 13 allotments have a depth of abou 146 feet, and have back entrances from Judge-street at the rear.

Lots 14, 15, and 16 have each 24 feet 6 inches frontage to Dowling-street. Lot 16 adjoins the property of Messrs. Maguire and Heney.

Lots 17 to 24, inclusive, have each 20 feet frontage to ditto. Lot 17 adjoins the property of Messrs. Maguire and Heney.

Lot 25 adjoins Mr. Baker's allotment, and has 21 feet 3 inches frontage to Dowling-street.

The above 12 allotments have a depth of about 117 feet 6 inches, and have back entrances from Duke-street at the rear.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:

Twenty per cent. cash deposit; the residue by bills at six and twelve months from day of sale, bearing eight per cent interest.

SPLENDID AND VALUABLE PROPERTY.

KINGSDALE is close to the TOWN OF GOULBURN,
and adjoins the estates of Messrs. Lithgow, Bradley, M'Arthur, Ross, and Moore.

THE SOIL is of the best description, and is copiously watered by
to which it has frontage for two and a-half miles! and by a CHAIN OF PONDS OF UNUSUAL MAGNITUDE, which extend throughout the property, and have never been known to fail.

THE QUIT RENT IS REDEEMED, and a large tract of country adjacent is held under the pre-emptive right.

So much for its present advantages, which even now offer extraordinary inducements to the capitalist; but to look only a few years ahead, to the time when the isolation in which our greatest inland town exists, from wretched and dangerous roads, will be changed to close proximity by RAILWAY COMMUNICATION, what will then be the value of such an estate as this, upon which Copper
Statuary marble
Limestone, &c., abound?

This is a question easily answered, for it has already been solved over and over again, in many countries. Small townships have become important cities, neglected lands converted into thriving farms, or busy mines!—we shall see the same here.

A large portion of the purchase money may remain on mortgage at the low interest of six per cent. per annum. 6365

(IN THE ESTATE OF E. FUTTER, ESQ.)

AT THE HEAD OF WILLIAM-STREET,
With frontages to
DARLINGHURST ROAD,
UPPER WILLIAM-STREET NORTH, and UPPER WILLIAM-STREET SOUTH.

MORT AND BROWN

HAVE received instructions to bring to public auction, at their Rooms,
FOR UNRESERVED SALE,
ON TUESDAY, JUNE 4,

On the following liberal terms of payment:—
10 per cent. cash deposit
15 ditto on signing of conveyance
25 ditto one year
25 ditto two years
25 ditto three years

The above-named Allotments, which comprise decidedly the most advantageous building site unappropriated in Woolloomooloo; their chief frontage is to
THE DARLINGHURST ROAD,
Immediately opposite the SUMMIT OF WILLIAM-STREET.

They are bounded by BOTH OF THE THOROUGHFARES TO RUSHCUTTER'S BAY, DARLING POINT, &c., and are immediately opposite the elegant residences known as
MR SMART'S TERRACE.

The block of land has been judiciously laid out by Mr. Hilley, under instructions that the plots should be suitable for SUPERIOR PROPERTY: they are as follows:—

LOT 1.—A Corner Allotment, having frontage to Darlinghurst Road of 30 feet, by a depth of 77 feet. The frontage of this allotment to Upper William-street North (which divides the property of S. A. Donaldson, Esq., from the residence of the Lord Bishop of Sydney), is about 80 feet.

LOT 2—Has a frontage to Upper William-street North of about 35 feet, by a depth of about 80 feet, and is bounded on one side by the lane reserved at the back of the property.

LOTS 3 to 9—Have each 30 feet frontage to the Darlinghurst Road, by a depth of 112 feet, and bounded in the rear by the lane alluded to.

LOT 10.—A Corner Allotment, has 70 feet frontage to Victoria-street, by a depth of 113 feet to Upper William-street.

The Plan of these unquestionably first-class Building Properties may be seen at the Rooms of the Auctioneer, where all further particulars may be ascertained; Messrs. Mort and Brown have therefore only to call attention to the facts that these allotments are situated in the most elevated and salubrious point in Woolloomooloo—that the locality is in every way desirable, and that they are within a very few minutes from the centre of business in the city.

THE TERMS OF PAYMENT
as above enumerated are also very easy. 8408
